TMI 2022 Awards for Innovation & Excellence

General Awards Information

For over 30 years, Treasury Management International (TMI) has been dedicated to promoting best practices and innovations in treasury management.

We take pride in the significant input we have made to the development of the treasury and finance profession by promoting the growth of treasury associations and clubs around the world, providing new insights into treasury and supporting treasurers in their efforts to find new ways to add value to their organisations.

Since we introduced the TMI Awards for Innovation & Excellence more than a decade ago, these Awards have become firmly established as the quality benchmark for the treasury profession, formally recognising the banks, vendors, consultants and practitioners who are defining new frontiers and driving best practices in treasury management globally.

If you represent a bank, technology vendor, consultancy or corporate treasury, you can nominate your own organisation for an award in the relevant category. In addition, you can choose to nominate one or more third parties for an Award. For example, as a corporate treasurer, you may wish to nominate a bank, vendor or consultancy in recognition of innovation and excellence in the services you have received. Similarly, banks, vendors and consultancies may choose to nominate their customers.

Award Categories

The TMI Awards for Innovation and Excellence will be decided across the following categories:

- Corporate Recognition Awards
- Bank Awards (by solution and geography)
- Money Market Awards
- Technology Innovation Awards
- Treasury4Good Awards
Nomination Process

There are three ways to be considered for an Award in each category:

1) Case Studies
2) Self-Nomination
3) Third Party Nomination

Case Studies
All case studies that have been published in the past 12 months in TMI are automatically considered for an award and do not need to be resubmitted.

Self-Nomination
Any bank, technology vendor, consultancy or corporate treasury can nominate their own organisation for an award in the relevant category or categories.

Third Party Nomination
Any bank, technology vendor, consultancy or corporate treasury can nominate a third party organisation for an award in the relevant category or categories. For example, a bank, vendor or consultancy may nominate their customers while a corporate treasurer may nominate their banks, vendors or consultancies.

Self-Nominations and Third Party nominations can be made online via the following link: http://www.treasury-management.com/awards/. Nominations should adhere to the stated word limits on the online form (plus brief supporting document if relevant).

Judging Process

Submissions will be shortlisted based on the criteria outlined for each Award category below. TMI will select the final winner of the Award from this shortlist based on the opinions of an expert panel; however, TMI reserves the right to make the final decision.

TMI also reserves the right not to make an Award in any category if it believes, in its sole discretion, that the quality of nominations is not of a sufficiently high standard.

Awards Timeline

- May 2022 – Nominations open for all categories
- 31st October 2022 – Nomination deadline
- December 2022 – Award winners informed
- Early 2023 – Awards ceremony (Location TBC – dependent on restrictions)
- TMI February 2023 edition - Awards issue and editorial coverage
Corporate Recognition Awards

This document should be read in conjunction with the General Awards Information.

Corporate Recognition Awards are open to any treasury department of a corporation or non-bank financial institution. Awards will be made in the following areas and should relate to a specific project or initiative that has started, or been completed during the 12 months prior to the nomination date:

- Best Investment Strategy
- Cash & Liquidity Management (Inc. payments and collections)
- Corporate Finance and Funding
- Risk Management
- Treasury Technology Solution
- Treasury Team of the Year
- Working Capital Management Solution
- Editor's Choice Special Awards (discretionary e.g. centralisation, notable projects etc. depending on the entries received.)

The submission should adhere to the word limits stated on the online form and include the following information as relevant to the project/ solution:

- Brief summary of the solution and differentiating features
- External partners engaged in the project/ solution (bank(s); technology vendor(s); consultant(s))
- Objectives, and/or challenges the solution/ project aimed to solve
- Geographic reach of the project
- Description of the solution/ project, including implementation and timelines
- Challenges experienced and how these were overcome
- Benefits/ outcomes of the solution
- Wider significance of the project in advancing corporate treasury practice

All nominations will be considered according to the following criteria:

- How closely the solution/ project met the objective
- How the solution/ project demonstrated innovation and excellence
- How challenges were overcome
- Quantitative and qualitative benefits of the solution
- How the solution/ project contributes to best practices in the treasury profession.
Bank Awards

This document should be read in conjunction with the General Awards Information.

The Bank Awards are open to any bank so long as they have demonstrable capabilities in the relevant functional area and geography. Awards will be made across the following functional and geographic areas:

Global Bank Awards for:

- Cash & Liquidity Management (includes payments and collections)
- Supply Chain Financing (includes trade finance and working capital finance)
- Best Fintech Collaboration

Regional Bank Awards will also be made in each of the above functional areas for one or more of the following specific regions (e.g. Cash Management - North America; Cash Management – South America etc.) as follows:

- Europe
- North America
- South America
- Middle East & Africa
- Asia Pacific (incl. India & Australasia)
- China

If you wish to submit an entry for a region not listed above please contact Sam Clarke (sclarke@treasury-management.com).

Banks must provide a separate nomination for every Award for which they wish to be considered, but may enter any number of nominations. It is accepted that there will be some overlap in content between nominations.

Nominations should adhere to the word limits stated on the online form. The same format applies for both Global and Regional Awards. Regional awards may apply to one country within a region.

Self-Nomination

Banks submitting a self-nomination should include the following:

- Please describe the bank’s strategy and key achievements over the past year for the relevant award category
- What new solutions have been developed over the 12 months before the award submission date (maximum of three)?
- Please describe the benefits to customers of these solutions (continued on next page)
In what ways has the bank differentiated itself from its competitors in the award category?

How has the bank contributed to wider best practices in corporate treasury in the award category?

Third Party Nomination

Companies nominating a bank in one or more functional and/or geographic areas should include:

- For what reasons are you nominating your chosen bank in this category?
- What new solutions or services has the bank provided to you over the past 12 months that have been particularly noteworthy?
- In what ways does the bank differentiate itself in quality and innovation of solutions and services?

All nominations will be considered according to the following criteria:

- Cohesion of bank’s strategy over the past year for the relevant award category
- Quality and innovation of new solutions that have been developed (during period of award)
- Benefits to customers of these solutions
- Differentiation from competitors in the award category
- How the bank is contributing to wider best practices in corporate treasury in the award category.
Money Market Awards

This document should be read in conjunction with the General Awards Information.

Submissions can be made in the following categories:

- Innovation in the Short-Term Investment Ecosystem
  Demonstrating true innovation in the challenging short-term investment space is no easy feat. Wherever you are located and whatever your size, if you’re an investment manager or technology provider and you feel you have made a significant breakthrough, whatever it is, we want to hear from you.

- Innovation in Crypto Assets
  As the idea of using crypto assets as part of a normal treasury portfolio gains traction, so the innovations in this space keep coming. We want to hear from all proponents – including technologists and asset managers – about how you are making the absolute most of the rise of crypto.

Nominations should adhere to the word limits stated on the online form and include:

- Information on the solution and how it demonstrates innovation and excellence
- New developments introduced over the past 12 months, the problems they solve and customer benefits
- Customer testimonial (except for in-house projects)
- How the solution contributes to wider best practices in corporate treasury in the award category

All nominations will be considered according to the following criteria:

- How the solution demonstrates innovation and excellence
- Proven benefits to customers (or the organisation itself for in-house projects)
- How the solution contributes to wider best practices in corporate treasury in the award category
Technology Innovation Awards

Technology Innovation Awards are open to financial technology vendors, bank or corporate treasury. For example, a corporate treasury may have developed an in-house solution either internally or with a partner organisation. Awards will be made in the following categories:

- Accounts Payable / Accounts Receivable solution
- Bank Connectivity
- Best Innovation Lab Solution
- Cash / Treasury Management System
- Customer Experience
- Emerging Player (launched within 24 months)
- Mobile Technology Solution
- Portal Technology
- Risk Management Solution
- Solution Innovation
- Trade Finance Solution

Nominations should adhere to the word limits stated on the online form and include:

- Information on the solution and how it demonstrates innovation and excellence
- New developments introduced over the past 12 months, the problems they solve and customer benefits
- Customer testimonial (except for in-house projects)
- How the solution contributes to wider best practices in corporate treasury in the award category

All nominations will be considered according to the following criteria:

- How the solution demonstrates innovation and excellence
- Proven benefits to customers (or the organisation itself for in-house projects)
- How the solution contributes to wider best practices in corporate treasury in the award category
Treasury4Good Awards

To recognise the growing importance of Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR), Environmental, Social & Governance (ESG) and Diversity & Inclusion (D&I) in the treasury marketplace, TMI is delighted to present the Treasury4Good Awards, established in 2019 as the first of its kind in the treasury sector.

Dedicated to those corporate treasury teams, banks, and vendors truly making a difference to their organisation’s sustainable growth – and the world around them – these are the first Awards of their kind in our industry.

Once considered ‘soft’ topics, CSR, ESG and D&I are now seen as vital strategic tools for business growth and success. What’s more, customers, suppliers, employees, and shareholders are increasingly looking for banks and corporates to generate a positive social impact, whilst improving financial performance and working towards a more sustainable business model – in every sense of the word.

Creating a diverse workplace and embracing ethical practices are also critical for organisations looking to stand out from the crowd in a market where reputation is everything.

As the gatekeepers of company cash, corporate treasury professionals, together with the providers of treasury services, have a vital role to play in supporting CSR, ESG and D&I initiatives. Together with driving bottom line improvements, global corporates and banks are now expected to be responsible role models – addressing local and international challenges by using their financial reach to improve lives, society, business, and the environment.
Awards will be made in the following categories:

- Treasury4Good Corporate Award – Best Ethical Investment Initiative
- Treasury4Good Corporate Award – Best Sustainable Finance Project
- Treasury4Good Corporate Award – Best Treasury Diversity & Inclusion Drive
- Treasury4Good Corporate Award – Top Treasury CSR/ESG Award

- Best Global Bank for CSR/ESG
- Best Global Bank for Diversity & Inclusion
- Best Community Engagement Project
- Best Employee Engagement Initiative
- Best ESG Liquidity Solution
- Best Treasury4Good Innovator (covering CSR/ESG/D&I)
- Best Treasury4Good Technology Solution
- Outstanding Treasury4Good Leader (personal award)

Nominations should adhere to the word limits stated on the online form and include:

- Brief summary of the solution/initiative and differentiating features
- External partners engaged in the project/solution (bank(s); technology vendor(s); consultant(s))
- Objectives, and/or challenges the solution/project aimed to solve
- Geographic reach of the project
- Description of the solution/project, including implementation and timelines
- Challenges experienced and how these were overcome
- Benefits/outcomes of the solution/project
- Wider significance of the project in advancing CSR/ESG/D&I

All nominations will be considered according to the following criteria:

- How closely the solution/project met the objective
- How the solution/project demonstrated innovation and excellence
- How challenges were overcome
- Quantitative and qualitative benefits of the solution
- How the solution/project embeds CSR/ESG/D&I into corporate treasury